Dear Martha,

We were very pleased to hear you tell Barbara Walters that the fur scarf you wore on the day of your sentencing was faux; since chinchillas are genitally electrocuted or have their necks snapped for their pelts, this is good news.

As you may recall, we wrote to you instantly to ask if the scarf was real, but we received no response. Then, furriers proclaimed that it was dyed chinchilla and started selling knock-offs. When we still didn't hear from you, we put you at the top of our "Worst Dressed" celebrities list.

We're writing today to say that we've taken you off the "Worst Dressed" list and are advising our members that you, like your vegetarian daughter, believe that fur looks best on its original owner.

Kind regards,

Ingrid E. Newkirk
President
